The Royal Navy

---

presentation

7pm, 11th November 2010

The University of Greenwich, in association with our partners in the local community, will be host to the prestigious Royal Navy Presentation Team on the 11th of November. The event will be held on the Medway Campus at 7:00 pm in the Pembroke building Ward Room, a venue steeped in Royal Naval history.

The presentation will be an invaluable opportunity to hear from the Royal Navy about the UK Defence policy and the considerable contribution being made to tri-service and multi-national operations by an efficient, flexible, modern Royal Navy. They will show how your Navy operates right across the spectrum of missions from counter-narcotics to anti-terrorism, from defence diplomacy to disaster relief, and from peacekeeping through crisis management all the way up to high intensity conflict if necessary. They will also look at the future of the Navy as our plans evolve.

To register your interest for this event please contact Jason before 31st October 2010 by email at: WJ77@gre.ac.uk
